LAVELLE — Fresh corn from Tom Green's farm was roasted by Forrest Shadle. Homemade bean soup was cooked in a big iron kettle by Malcolm Boyer. Hamburgers with relish, hot dogs with sauerkraut, homemade cakes and ice cream, coffee and cold drinks was the menu at the annual Christ United Picnic, with approximately 150 attending the event held Sunday, August 21 at St. Peter's grove.

Marie and Leon Reichwein, and Susan Long served on the refreshment committee. Charles Richard and Walter Clark served the three flavors of ice cream and the cold drinks.

Games for all ages were directed by Debra and Jake Zak, Joann Young and Judy Stepulatis. The young children enjoyed the money scramble in sawdust. Wrapped candies were also hidden in the sawdust with the pennies, nickels and dimes.

Dennis Long, Pastors Werley and Pfeffer were the persons that arranged for the dunking machine. Donations from the machine were given to World Hunger.

Music was provided by Mike Sokoloski and his accordian.

The Lutheran Men's Brotherhood and Lutheran Women assisted along with many volunteers to make the picnic a success.

Chairman Johnson thanks all who helped to make the picnic a relaxed affair. The friendship was warm and genuine.

Young and old participated in the "Fill the Cup" contest, whereby teaspoons of water were carried to the cup.

Another contest was balloons filled with water being tossed back and forth to partners. The winners were the last one with a filled unbroken balloon.

Australian Trolley was one of the newer games enjoyed by all.

The highlight of the afternoon's entertainment was the dunking machine. Pastors Peggy Sue Pfeffer and Jimmy Lee Werley were the dunking "victims".

The pastors were both repeatedly dunked to the delight of the picnickers. Picnic Chairman Carl Johnson was also dunked by a ball thrown by his wife, Emma.
